SPECIAL PRESENTATION

About the Film

This must see one-hour documentary debuted at the Sundance Film Festival in 2016 and shows the birth of a new movement that uses cutting edge science to disrupt the cycles of violence, addiction, and disease! Learn how negative childhood experiences can cause toxic stress, which can have long-term effects when it comes to everyone's mental and physical health.

Join us in learning what we can all do to build more resilient kids, teens, families, and communities! All attendees will receive a free gift bag!
